IN MEMORIAM
RALPH CHANDLER HARRISON

THE FOLLOWING MEMORIAL WAS PRESENTED BY TRUSTEE TAYLOR AT THE REGULAR MONTHLY MEETING OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE SAN FRANCISCO PUBLIC LIBRARY, HELD AUGUST 6, 1918, AND WAS UNANIMOUSLY ADOPTED

THIS is to say a few words, all too inadequate, in memory of Ralph Chandler Harrison, at the time of his death the President of our Board of Trustees, and who presided here at our July meeting. He was born at Cornwall Bridge in the State of Connecticut, on the twenty-second day of October, 1833, and died at San Francisco on the eighteenth day of July, 1918, after an illness of less than a week. He had a university education, being thoroughly grounded in the classics and mathematics, and started active life as a teacher, after which, having been admitted to the Bar in the State of New York, he came to San Francisco, and practiced his profession here for fifty-two years, except for the time he filled the position of Supreme Court Judge and of Chief Justice of one of the District Appellate Courts.

His early pedagogical virus never got out of his veins, for all his life he was more or less of a teacher, and he was one of those who remained responsively on tap as to almost any conceivable subject. And thus it was that he became a member of the organizations which had to do with educational subjects, for instance: the San Francisco Bar Association, the Geographical Society, the Commonwealth Club, the San Francisco Law Library, Hastings College of the Law and the San Francisco Public Library, which he served for thirty-one years.

Judge Harrison became a member of the Library Board in March, 1887, and took a place at once upon the Book Committee, of which he subsequently became chairman. No place could have been more congenial to him, as he was so well qualified to fill it, for his acquaintance with histories and literatures was very wide. He had an almost intuitive sense of the value of books, and his love for them was unbounded. Hence it was that he gave to the discharge of his duties on this committee the requisite knowledge, coupled with unceasing devotion, watchful care and an unfailing discriminating judgment.

And right here it seems appropriate to speak of the great loss Judge and Mrs. Harrison suffered in 1906 when, in the Great Fire, their home, filled with the accumulation of a lifetime, containing a library of more than five thousand volumes, many of them very rare, was entirely destroyed. The library thus destroyed was one of the best, largest and choicest in San Francisco. Judge Harrison was an expert in the matter of editions and of the getting up of books. He could not be easily fooled in such matters. He knew whether an edition which was said to be the first was indeed the first, and he had the most exquisite taste in the matter of bindings and of typographies. Undaunted by the loss of their library, they began anew and surrounded themselves with a large collection of books, which, if lacking in some of the rare phases of its predecessor, at least held most of the immortal voices of the past.

He was a member of the first and third Boards of Freeholders for the framing of a charter for this city, having been elected chairman of the third, and in both positions he exhibited the great capacities with which he was endowed. These two charters were not adopted by the people, but they were of inestimable service to those who framed the existing charter.

Of his qualities as a Judge this perhaps is not the appropriate place to speak, and yet this slight sketch would be still more incomplete did we not do so. As a Judge he was justice embodied, and his mind once made up, he was firm as a rock. Vacillation, which is the bane of some judges, never was his. His written opinions have a quality which is invaluable, that of crystalline clearness. There was no thinness, no sloppiness, no ambiguities or obscurities. He never shirked an issue, but fronted it squarely. As a general thing he stated the facts of the case himself, not leaving that to the reporter. Some of his opinions are landmarks and all are masterly.

Judge Harrison was a very remarkable man. He had a distinguished presence, a winning personality, a scholarly mind of an unusual intellectuality, and a common sense which never failed him on any occasion; but more than these, an honesty impregnable to any assault, an unparalleled devotion to duty, an unfaltering assiduity in the discharge of every obligation, and a character unblemished as a star. It was a privilege and an honor to be associated with such a man, and that San Francisco should have had his services for thirty-one years as a free gift is a debt that can never be paid. He was one of her great sons and as such we are proud here to proclaim him.
